Summer Workshops 2014

An extraordinary summer of dancing, teaching and performing!!!

Last week saw the successful conclusion of the 2014 Limón Summer Workshops. Congratulations to the many dancers, teachers and faculty members who helped us in bringing forth the workshops. A special thank you to workshop partners: California State University Fullerton, Montclair State University, NYU Steinhardt, Université du Québec á Montréal.

If you missed Limón this summer, then look out for future details about Summer 2015!

Free performances

Company dancer Logan Kruger performs works by Doris Humphrey and José Limón. Watch it for free!

- August 17 at 6pm - Battery Dance Company Presents the 33rd Annual Downtown Dance Festival
- August 20 at 6:15pm - Jacob's Pillow Festival - Inside/Out

In Situ Arts/ Adam H Weinert and Logan Frances Kruger perform a program that explores one branch of American Modern Dance lineage including works by Ted Shawn, Doris Humphrey and José Limón, as well as a work in progress by Adam H Weinert. In this new work, the aim is to employ the form of the historical dance survey to generate new choreographic material and explore the possibilities which emerge when a reverence for the history of dance joins with the personal narratives of the interpreters, creating a dance which regards our past and contemplates our future.
