Made in Kent: Dance (Dance)

St. Mary's Hall Studio Theatre Tues 24 7.30pm

In partnership with Kent Dance Network, and new for this year, the Canterbury Festival is hosting a showcase of contemporary dance, created entirely by Kent-based dancers and choreographers.

Loop Dance Company presents Hanging Heavy Do we feel dance or do we just see it? It's time to become part of the experiment.

Rachel Birch-Lawson presents Skein A heartbreakingly revealing study of our universal desire to communicate.

Outset Dance presents Check Out My Shirt Follow two dancers on a journey as they navigate what it means to be faced with life-defining decisions.

MIA (Theatre)

Gulbenkain Theatre Wed 25 7.30pm

Having kids is not an easy decision: Can I afford it? Have I got enough room? Will I screw it up? Now imagine making these decisions if you have a learning disability. Woah – wait a minute... learning-disabled parents? Erm, can they do that? Do they even have sex? Yes, yes 'they' do.

Fast moving, raw and eye-opening, Mia explores the truths and myths about learning disability and parenthood in today's society. Think pop culture with popcorn, science with silliness, stories with statistics. Mia challenges the often taken for granted idea of 'being a parent'. A Mind the Gap production, performed by four learning-disabled artists.

Attempts on Her Life (Theatre)

Fisher Center, LUMA Theater Thurs 26 and Fri 27 7.30pm

Crimp's rarely performed masterwork is an examination of the construction of identity in the age of modern media. The protagonist, Anne, never appears, but the question of who she is or was is examined from different, contradictory, and brilliantly theatrical perspectives.

Ellie Taylor: This Guy (Comedy)

The Marlowe Theatre (Studio) Fri 27 Oct 8pm

Following a sell-out Edinburgh Festival season and 2016 tour, the star of BBC's Live At The Apollo, Mock The Week and The John Bishop Show, Channel 4's 8 Out Of 10 Cats, and BBC Radio 4's The Now Show presents an unmissable new stand-up show discussing whether or not she should breed.
